

Bidding Farewell...

MABEN – Two employees are leaving the ranks at Integrated Resources, Inc., to further their education. David Simmons and Donnie Simmons, currently employed by the House of Wonder, the woodworking workshop at Integrated Resources, are soon leaving to participate in training programs at the West Virginia Rehabilitation Center located near Charleston.

David Simmons has worked for Integrated Resources since 2003, learning woodworking skills as well as workplace responsibilities and ethics. He previously attended the West Virginia Rehabilitation Center in 2001, graduating with an Associate's Degree in Information Technology. For his second stint, David will be studying business education in order to further his long-term goal of working with computers.

Donnie Simmons has been employed with Integrated Resources since 2002. Donnie will be attending the West Virginia Rehabilitation Center for the first time to study environmental/janitorial services. He, too, is excited about the many opportunities awaiting him and is relieved to be going with someone he knows. Donnie's long-term goal is to be a game warden in the area.

Both men will be living on the campus of the West Virginia Rehabilitation Center and anticipate a great journey toward furthering their education and independence.

Integrated Resources, Inc., wishes David and Donnie the best of luck and applauds their endeavor to pursue higher education.

Integrated Resources, Inc., is a private, non-profit agency who has served the needs of people with disabilities as well the community for nearly forty years. Additional information about Integrated Resources, Inc., can be found at www.int-res-inc.com.